EVERY MEAL TELLS A STORY

After Mum died, we had to rethink our plans for Dad who was living with his grief and his memories of Mum all inside the family home.

Dad wasn't frail but he was vulnerable, as his cognitive capacity was in decline. Meals on Wheels was the first organisation we thought of as a means to ensure he received a fresh meal daily and equally if not more importantly for the family was someone to knock on the door and make sure he was okay.

The volunteers of Meals on Wheels Sunnybank Salisbury were so patient and caring for Dad that it still brings a tear to my eye. They would call when they thought there was an issue, and they would celebrate his birthday and all the other key dates on the calendar.

Meals on Wheels has a special place in our hearts and in the communities and let it be so for years to come.

EVERY MEAL TELLS A STORY

A little kindness goes a long way! I was diagnosed with Breast Cancer when I was 68 and went through 12 months of radium and chemotherapy. Whilst I was recovering from breast cancer, everyday tasks felt like climbing mountains — especially cooking. The fatigue, the treatment side effects, the emotional toll... it all adds up. That's when Meals on Wheels™ stepped in. Every day, a warm, nutritious meal would arrive at my doorstep, delivered with a smile and sometimes even a short chat that lifted my spirits more than they'll ever know. It wasn't just about the food (though it was delicious!). It was about the care behind it. I'm forever grateful, thank you!
